ORAL HISTORY ACTIVITY

We all have stories to tell, or an experience that we would like to share. An oral history is a way of preserving information that can then be passed on.

1. Ask for permission
Who are you going to interview and do you have permission to record them?

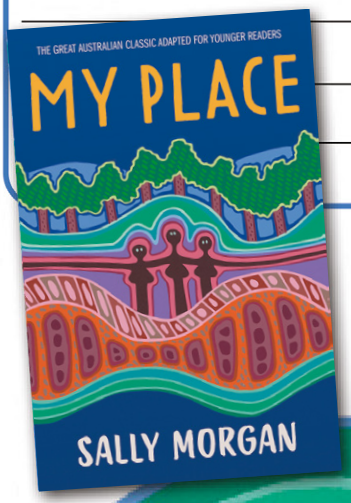

2. Prepare using the checklist below.
Ensure you have a recording device and/or pen and paper to take notes

Set a date, time and location for the interview.

Research the person you are interviewing and anything relevant to the topic.

Have you done research to prepare for the interview?

3. Interview
Record your interview or transcribe it

© My Place for younger readers by Sally Morgan.
Published by Fremantle Press, 2026.
For more fun, free activities,
visit fremantlepress.com.au/education

@FremantlePress

FIND OUT MORE